Does your child have a health problem or condition that affects his or her physical health, behavior, learning, growth, or physical development?

Does this problem affect his or her abilities and activities at school or at play, or the kind or amount of services that he or she may need or use?

We want to hear what you have to say!

If your child fits the description above, you can take part in a research study that explains services that can help you and your child manage his or her condition.

To participate, complete this single survey at your convenience. The survey is:

- Voluntary and anonymous
- Takes about 25 minutes
- You will receive a $20 gift card at the end of the survey, as a “thank you” for taking the time.

If you are at least 18 years old, take the survey now at:

The research study is conducted by the UCLA Center for Health Policy Research. If you have any questions before participating, contact Daphna Gans, a member of the project team, at dgans@mednet.ucla.edu or (310) 430-9664.
